ORAL JUDGEMENT

The learned counsel appearing on both sides submit that the original civil suit from which this appeal arises is required to be heard and disposed expeditiously. The amount of maintenance awarded by way of interim maintenance and expenses by the impugned order is not required to be interfered in view of the fact that the amount awarded has practically reduced in real value by the efflux of time. Otherwise, there is no substance in the appeal and the grounds in the appeal are not substantiated by any material on record. The learned Judge of the trial court has considered the income of the defendant and the requirement of the plaintiff for maintenance of the wife and only one child. The appeal is, therefore, dismissed with no order as to costs with a direction that the original suit may be heard and disposed as expeditiously as possible, preferably within six months from today.
